

Document Types Guide

On the following pages you will find the required information to create and set up the document types needed for the Umbraco Estate Agent website tutorial.

The section labelled structure is used to restrict what child document types you are allowed to create underneath that page. For example, preventing a news item document type from being created under an image gallery.

However to set up the structure you will need to create all of the document types first, and then go back through the document types to define these structure settings.
